

Sales Analyst

The Ohio Credit Union League has an immediate opening for a Sales Analyst. At the League, we're committed to investing in operational and leadership strategies that strengthen our organization. We also, more importantly, believe it's vital to invest in and nurture talent. We're seeking an individual that will propel our organization to the next level of success. We prize creativity and innovation - and our drive for achievement means we're always looking for a better, smarter way of doing things.

Confident. Dedicated. Resourceful. These qualities best describe employees who work for the Ohio Credit Union League. Our people are our most valued asset, and the foundation of our success. Would you like to join an exceptional group of talented individuals and be a part of our member-focused culture?

This is a key position within a dynamic trade association that highly values data to drive sound business decisions. In this role, you will be depended upon for a full scope of analysis and reporting of sales and membership data. You will be the go-to person for evaluating and predicting trends and will take on special projects needed to optimize the organization's promotional and growth strategies. This is a role for someone who possesses strong communication skills, both written and verbal, with the ability to convey complex information to a broad audience. You must thrive in a fast-paced work environment and be skilled at leading enhancements that streamline and enrich our existing systems and functions.

A Bachelor's degree is required and in the field of Business, Business Management or Finance is preferred. The successful candidate must have a minimum of two years of experience in a similar position. Knowledge of the credit union industry or financial services market is preferred.
